REPENTANCE.

The Greek would explain that word as "afterthought." That perhaps is as good definition as can be given—looking back over the past with regret—afterthought with sorrow.

A sad mistake is made by some in substituting reformation for repentance. Reformation is the fruit of repentance, is the evidence that that man who was sent from God whose name my John, required of those who demanded baptism, he said, bring fruits meet for repentance. As much as to say give me evidence that you have repented of sin, and accepted the promised Christ as your personal Saviour, then and not till then will I baptize you. John baptized none only penitent believers, those who renounced Judaism and accepted the Son of God, the Redeemer of the world. John preached repent for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand, his mission was to make ready a people for the reception of the coming Christ. He cried, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord make his paths straight. I am not the light, but I am sent to bear witness of the Light." When Christ came He reaffirmed what John preached, "Repent for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand." Peter at Jerusalem and Paul at Athens proclaimed the same doctrine, "Repent and believe the Gospel." In true repentance there is necessarily sorrow for sin, that the Law of God has been violated, and the sinner condemned, alienated from his best friend, without God and hope in the world. This sorrow leads to forsaking sin turning from, and a hatred to, and a confessing of the sin of the soul. David says against Thee and Thee only have I sinned and done this evil in thy sight. He had done evil in the sight of God and he confesses it. Surely all should do likewise, not only to God but to one another if we have wronged anyone.
